TO PRESERVE.
TO PASS ON.
TO LEAVE BEHIND.

A leopard is walking through a bushveld in South Africa. The leopard is the central focus, moving from the background towards the foreground. Its fur is covered in a pattern of dark spots and rosettes. The background is filled with dry, golden-brown grass and some green foliage, creating a natural, wild environment. The lighting is warm, suggesting a sunset or sunrise, which adds a golden glow to the scene.
